

Twelfth Sunday In Ordinary Time - Readings

The first reading today, from Jeremiah, expresses the prophet's trust in God to accompany and deliver him despite the contempt and danger he faces. The second reading, from St Paul, reflects upon the gift of freedom won by Christ whose sacrifice outweighs the sin of the world. (Synopsis Intercom)

Second collection Day for Life amounted to £676.64

Many Thanks as always for your generosity

The Peter's Pence Collection has ancient Christian roots, linking back to the New Testament times when people would provide material support to those reaching the Gospel to distribute to those in need (see Acts 4:34-35, 11:29). Today the collection is the way we as members of the Catholic Church unite ourselves to the concerns of the Holy Father. Donations to this collection support the charitable works of Pope Francis for the assistance of those most in need. Please give generously to this collection, as a witness of charity, and give hope to those who suffer around the globe.

Just Trust!

Our lives are lightened by people we can trust. We need to trust so much in life. We know great pain when our trust is shaken by people we thought we could trust – parents, teachers, religious superiors, the church, friends and more. In the Gospel today Jesus tells us to trust in God, who would not harm even a hair of our head. He asks and urges us to be people who would not harm another. We are worth this care and love just by being created. Like a parent or grandparent, or an aunt or uncle, totally loving a new child before the child is even seen, so God loves each of us. The sight of a starving child brings out our love and a desire to care.

This is linked to the care of God: in this care and trust of each other, we find the trust and care of God, given and received, for 'where there is love, there is God' (1Jn 3:7)
